BACKGROUND

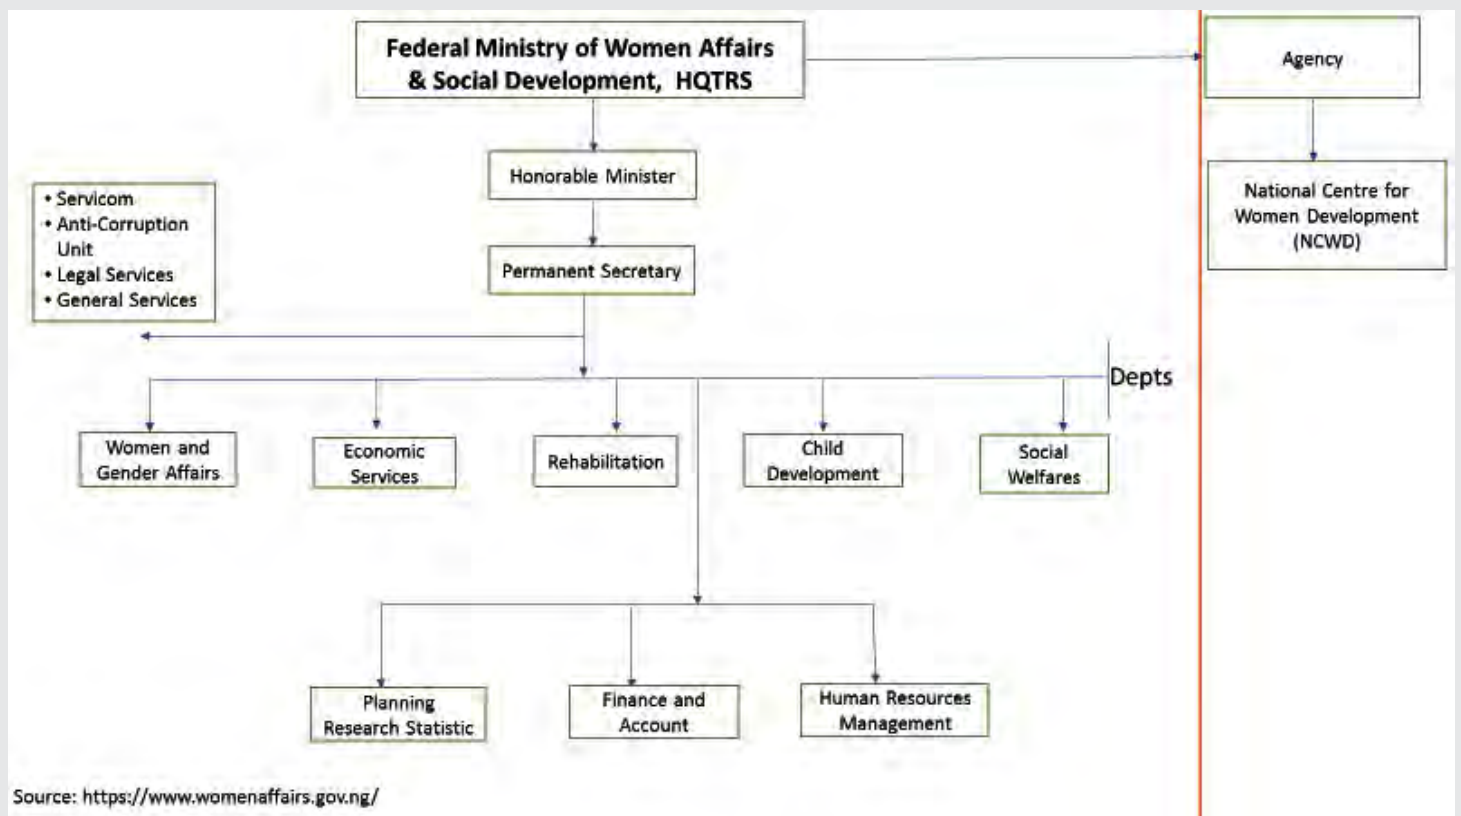

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW OF THE MINISTRY OF WOMEN AFFAIRS IN NIGERIA 1989-2021

The Federal Ministry of Women Affairs and Social Development (FMWAs & SD) was established by Decree No. 30 of 1989 National Commission for Women (NCW). The NCW was an initiative of the late first lady (Dr) Mrs Maryam Babangida. Whilst the commission is recognized as a Government Institution, its activities were notably ad-hoc with no specific and adequate budgetary allocation. The wife of the Head of State as a result, dictated the pace of activities in the Commission with the creation of her Better life Program for Rural Women.

However, in 1995, the National Commission for Women was upgraded to a full-fledged Ministry of Women Affairs and Social Development. Thus, despite the change, the activities of the Ministry, again largely influenced by the dictates of the wife of the Head of State at that time. It was during this time the Family Support and Economic Advancement Program was introduced.

However, the return to civilian rule in 1999 change the operational capacity of the Ministry from being a dictate of the wife of the Head of state to a full pledge ministry now recognized by others ministry in driving social, political and economic development the country including the subnational state level.

Today, the FMoWAs & SD has several departments and units within. The creation of some of the key departments: planning research statistics, finance and account, and human resources dated back to the period when it was established in the late 1980s and early 1990s. The program-based departments which include social welfare were created in the early 1990s, while others such as child development, rehabilitation, economic services, women and gender affairs departments could be traced to the first and second decades of the 21st century (see <https://www.womenaffairs.gov.ng/>). It must be noted that the Ministry has one agency, the National Centre for Women Development (NCWD) as could be seen in the fig below.

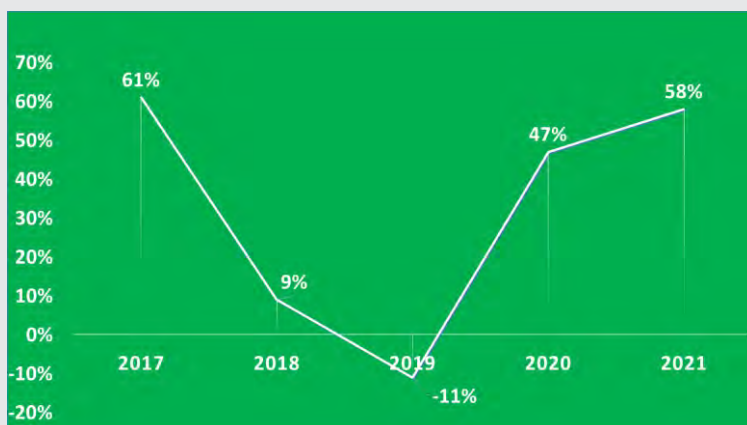

FMoWAs AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT BUDGET TREND 2017-2021

One of the early challenges of the FMoWAs & SD was poor funding commitment. This strongly affected its operational, relevance and effectiveness, especially in implementing various programs/activities within its confines. Between 2017 and 2021, a total of N38,633 billion was budgeted for the Ministry. While 80% of the fund is for capital expenditure, 20% of the fund is for recurrent expenditure. This means that there is a huge priority on building on infrastructure and empowerments activities. It could also be observed that the total budgetary allocation has been on the rise since 2020 despite sharp decline in the year 2019.

A NOTE ON WOMEN DEVELOPMENT CENTERS OF THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR WOMEN DEVELOPMENT, UNDER THE FEDERAL MINISTRY OF WOMEN AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT, 2021 BUDGET

In the 2021 fiscal year, the National Center for Women Development (NCWD) has a budgetary allocation of N5.6 billion. Of this amount, N5.3 billion is for capital expenditure under which approximately N3.2 billion was meant for the various Women Economic Empowerment WEE. The center has significant programs relating to various vocational, computer training and also partners to give grants to women across the six geopolitical zones for startup. Some of the WEE programs are highlighted in the table below. The NCWD works through Women Development Centers (WDC) at the states level. In Nigeria, WDCs were established during the 1980s and 1990s under the Better Life for Rural Women Flagship program to improve the livelihood of women in the rural areas, build their capacities, learn vocational skills in to earn income and support their families and communities. Today, WDCs host women of various age grades, and empower them through training on multiple skills such as tailoring. The centers are managed by the Women Development Officers at their respective locations. Therefore, one of the related budget lines for the WDC in the NWDC 2021 budget is revitalization of two (2) Women Development Centers in each of the six geo-political zones with N60 million allocation. The table below provides the breakdown.

COMPARTING WEE ALLOCATIONS IN THE FEDERAL MINISTRY OF HUMANITARIAN AFFAIRS AND DISASTER MANAGEMENT AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT WITH THE FEDERAL MINISTRY OF WOMEN AFFAIRS AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

An in-depth review of the 2020 and 2021 budgets of both the Federal Ministry of Humanitarian Affairs, Disaster Management and Social Development (FMOHADMSD) and the Federal Ministry Women Affairs and Social Development (FMOWAs & SD) shows that both have dedicated budget line for program/activities on women economic empowerment (WEE). Within the two years, a total of N8 billion has been directly allocated as WEE by the Ministry of Women affairs, while N3 billion was directly budgeted as WEE by the Ministry of Humanitarian Affairs. It is however, important to note that the Humanitarian Affairs Ministry has a separate non-disaggregated budget line of about N400 billion for the National Social Investment Office covering social welfares, and youth and women's economic empowerment in 2021. It is under the fund, the Ministry gives trader money, market money, farmer money, conditional cash transfer, etc. benefiting both men and women.

TABLE 4: WEE, FMOHADMSD AND FMOWAs & SD - 2020 AND 2021 BUDGETS ESTIMATES

Ministries	2020	2021	Total
Ministry of women affairs	2,659,574,789	5,364,887,677	8,024,462,466

WEE IN ZONAL INTERVENTION PROJECTS OF NATIONAL ASSEMBLY MEMBERS 2019 - 2021

The Table below shows the analysis of the allocation for the women's economic empowerment projects from the Zonal Intervention Projects otherwise known as constituency projects of the National Assembly between 2019 and 2021. It shows that out of the N100 billion budgeted as constituency projects annually, women's economic empowerment (WEE) projects received a share of N10 billion in 2019; N18 billion in the 2020 budget and N19 billion in the 2020 budget. The allocation to Zonal WEE project was increased by 66% in the 2020, and 7% in 2021. Also, the percentage of the Zonal women's constituency economic empowerment projects to total Zonal intervention/constituency projects stood at 10.9%, 18.1%, and 19.4% for the years 2019, 2020, and 2021 budgets respectively. The continuous increase in WEE funding shows increased political government commitment to women's empowerment in the country and also calls into question accountability of these funds allocated by politicians in the National Assembly.
